MEDIA ADVISORY

No Money for Gifts? No Problem.

Club kids make presents for family with the help of volunteers.

Despite the economic crisis this holiday season, some parents will receive gifts that are worth their weight in gold because they were made by their child. Non-profit organization, We Care, is partnering with Boys & Girls Clubs of King County, Geiger and Herman Miller, Inc to host a winter party for children at the Rotary Boys & Girls Club in Capital Hill. Seattle youth will have the opportunity to make their own presents to give their friends and family while enjoying snacks and entertainment.

Boys & Girls Clubs of King County provide children with safe, positive places to call their own. There are 14 full service Clubs within King County and 30,000 youth are served annually. The Clubs seek to enable all young people to realize their full potential as productive, responsible and caring citizens.

About the Boys & Girls Clubs of King County

The Boys & Girls Clubs of King County exists to inspire and enable all young people, especially those who need us most, to realize their full potential as productive, responsible, and caring citizens. With 14 full-service Clubs and 28 before- and after-school program sites, the organization is one of the largest of its kind in the nation, serving 30,000 youth annually. Program areas offered to youth include character and leadership development, education and career development, health and life skills, the arts, computer training and sports/fitness/recreation opportunities.
